Marmara University Atatürk Faculty of Education

Department of Science Teaching

The Department of Science Teaching was founded in 1998 within Marmara University Atatürk Education Faculty and accepted students in the same year. The primary goal of the Department of Science Teaching is to train teachers who have a sound understanding of science and have positive attitude to science and the program is committed to promoting scientific literacy. The undergraduate program consists of subjects-specific courses including physics, chemistry and biology, pedagogic courses and electives. The program also aims to train teachers who can teach through innovative methods techniques and approaches. 'Learning through action' has a special significance emphasized in all the courses in the program.

Education and Instruction

The Undergraduate Program of Science Teaching offers courses that can broadly be categorized as departmental (disciplinary) courses intended to address topics in science, general culture courses and pedagogic training courses. The program is of 4 years duration consisting of both the theoretical and practical aspects of science teaching. Graduate programs such as Master's and Doctorate Degrees are also offered within the Institute of Educational Sciences.

Facilities

There are three labs in which courses are conducted namely; physics, chemistry and biology. The Department of Science Teaching has students exchange programs for both undergraduate and graduate students within the ERASMUS scheme. The students who provide essential conditions can take advantage of double major program.

Working Areas

The graduates of the Department of Science Teaching enter middle school 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grade science lessons at the private and the state schools affiliated to the Ministry of National Education in the 'Science Teacher' staff.
