

EUROPEAN SCIENCE FOUNDATION – Junior Summit 'Water: Unite and Divide – Interdisciplinary approaches for a sustainable future'

The screenshot shows the website for the ESF Junior Summit. The top navigation bar includes links for Home, About ESF, Activities, Research Areas, Publications, Media Centre, Jobs, and Contact. The main content area features a breadcrumb trail: Home > Research Areas > Humanities > Strategic Activities > ESF Junior Summit. A sidebar on the left lists various categories under 'Humanities' and 'Strategic Activities'. The main heading is 'ESF Junior Summit "Water: Unite and Divide"'. Below this, the title 'Water: Unite and Divide. Interdisciplinary approaches for a sustainable future' is displayed, along with the location 'Stresa, Lago Maggiore, Italy' and dates '27-30 August 2012'. A group photo of participants is shown. To the right, text states that the summit was supported by the ESF Standing Committees for the Humanities, Life, Earth and Environmental Sciences, Physical and Engineering Sciences, and Social Sciences. Links for 'Presentations (restricted access)' and 'Programme booklet' are provided.
